Eileen Roberson

Director, Naval Fleet Auxiliary Force and Special Mission Programs
Military Sealift Command
Washington, DC 20398-5540

Eileen Roberson joined the Military Sealift Command in March of 2010 as the Director of the Naval Fleet Auxiliary Force and Special Mission Programs. As the senior advisor on policy, budgeting and strategic planning matters she directly manages a $2 billion budget and oversees the operations of 67 ships (including all combat logistics, surveillance, and scientific support ships).

Prior to joining the Military Sealift Command, Ms. Roberson served as the Assistant for Administration to the Under Secretary of the Navy (2007-2010). She was the Navy's senior career civilian advisor to the Under Secretary, executing the Secretary's policies, goals and objectives. She managed a $1.1 billion annual portfolio of support services (including manpower management, human resources, organizational structure, financial management and budget, facilities and support services, and technology and information management) for the Office of the Secretary of the Navy, its 6000-member Secretariat, staff offices, field activities and supported organizations

From 2003-2007 Ms. Roberson served as Associate Administrator for Administration at the Department of Transportation, Maritime Administration (MARAD), responsible for overseeing the Agency's offices of Accounting, Acquisition, Budget, Information Technology, Human Resources, and Management Services (2003-2007).

Previously, Ms. Roberson held senior executive positions as Deputy Program Executive Office (PEO) for Information Technology (2001-2003), the Department of Navy Acquisition Reform Executive (1998-2001), and Deputy Program Manager, Aircraft Carrier Program (1996-1998).

Ms. Roberson served as a United States Naval Reserve Officer for more than 23 years, retiring in the rank of Captain.

Updated 4-10

Ms. Roberson holds a Master of Science degree in Management Information Systems and a Bachelor of Science degree in Engineering from the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York.

Ms. Roberson serves in a variety of civic and charitable organizations.