Joint Air Logistics Information System (JALIS) 2.18 Update

Prepared for all JALIS Users

March 2015

What's Changing and Why?

The Joint Air Logistics Information System (JALIS) is an information management system used by the Joint Warfighter to request and schedule airlifts for high-priority passengers and cargo in support of combat or contingency operations. JALIS collects and manages aircraft availability status entered by designated flying units and allows JALIS schedulers to produce flight schedules based on airlift request priority and aircraft availability. After completing each mission, JALIS provides flying units the ability to enter post-mission data that is used to support enterprise management decisions.

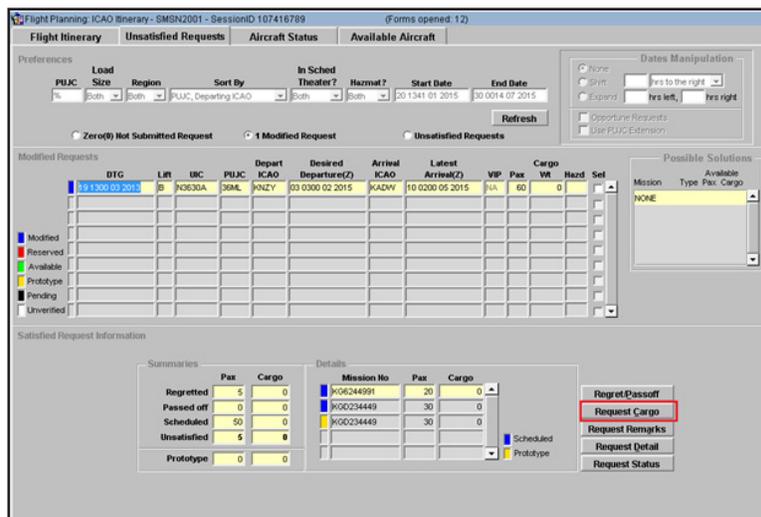

JALIS 2.18 is an incremental software update scheduled to be released in March 2015. It represents another step forward in the strategy to improve the JALIS user interface, to reduce the training time for new users, and to provide experienced users with a more powerful tool to manage airlifts. The purpose of this "What's New for You?" document is to prepare users for the JALIS 2.18 release by highlighting each of the changes that are coming via the software update.

JALIS 2.18 Update

Each of the changes included in the JALIS 2.18 update are listed in this section along with updated screenshots of the JALIS user interface and a brief description.

Request Cargo:

- A Request Cargo button has been added to the Unsatisfied Requests tab, which allows the schedulers to see the cargo information of the highlighted request as a pop-up on the Unsatisfied Requests tab.

Reformatted Flight Advisory:

- The tabs have been removed from the form. To see the mission Remarks, Passengers, and Contacts, click the appropriate button. A text panel pop-up will show the information.
- Regardless of the role, the users will see the same flight advisory. However, depending on role, access to information remains limited. For example, schedulers can view all the information, squadrons and requestors with validator/verifier role can only see released flight advisories, a non-validator requestor can only view released missions which have lift(s) that match the user's UIC.

Airfield Security:

- The contents of the Airfield Security drop-down list in ICAO Maintenance has changed. Available options now conform to the AMC Raven list selections: Raven Required, Req Above 6 Hrs, Consider Above 6 Hrs, Not Required.

Expiration Date on Personnel Maintenance Form:

- The date in this field will determine when the account is set to expire. The JALIS users will start receiving notifications when the expiration date is within 30 days, so they can contact their system administrator.
- If the account expires, the Status field will say INACTIVE. In order to reactivate the JALIS account, the system administrator must enter a new expiration date, set the status to ACTIVE, and save the information.

Opportune Requests:

- Opportune Requests option is available through the utility menu in the following forms: Mission Advanced Search, Air Terminal / Mission Advanced Search, Display Flight Advisory, and Daily Flight Schedule.
- Unsatisfied requests will be displayed in a pop-up box if the mission dates and the requested dates overlap, and at least one ICAO is either a proximate or an exact match to the mission itinerary.
