Team SPAWAR to Exhibit at West 2011

SAN DIEGO – Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command (SPAWAR) will be exhibiting at the largest, state-of-the-art defense and technology exposition and conference on the West Coast at the San Diego Convention Center, Jan. 25-27. The Western Conference and Exposition – West 2011 – co-sponsored by AFCEA and the U.S. Naval Institute, will feature exhibits from 400 technology leaders and discussions by leading military experts.

Team SPAWAR will host several C4I and technical demonstrations and a leadership speaker's series at Booth 1147 throughout the three day exposition. The demonstrations and speakers series will address cyber security and tactical networking capabilities in support of warfighters operating in theater. For a complete schedule of Team SPAWAR's speakers and demonstrations, please visit: <http://budurl.com/SPAWARAFCEAschedule>.

Focusing on "After the Long War: What's Next?" West 2011 will feature leading military experts and analysts addressing various topics related to national defense, including defense budgets, unmanned systems, cyber warfare, China and much more.

Team SPAWAR is composed of the following organizations:

- SPAWAR Headquarters
- SPAWAR Systems Center Pacific
- SPAWAR Systems Center Atlantic
- Program Executive Office for C4I
- Program Executive Office for Enterprise Information Systems
- Program Executive Office for Space Systems
- Joint Program Executive Office Joint Tactical Radio System

The U.S. Naval Institute is a nonprofit, independent forum that advocates the necessity of global sea power for national security and economic prosperity. Its publications, conferences and heritage resources help military and civilians understand the role each plays in safeguarding national security. For more information, go to www.navalinstitute.org.

AFCEA International, established in 1946, is a non-profit membership association that serves the military, government, industry and academia as an ethical forum for advancing professional knowledge and relationships in the fields of communications, information technology, intelligence and global security.
