Detailing Countdown

MONTHS DAYS

The Navy expects you to take an active role in your own professional development and career management. Career Management System-Interactive Detailing (CMS-ID) is a tool that enables you to explore future career opportunities and apply for Navy jobs. This “Detailing Countdown” will help you perform specific tasks in the eighteen months leading up to your Projected Rotation Date (PRD). Your best chance for successful orders negotiation depends upon completion of each milestone indicated.

You can find information about the detailing process, opportunities for special programs, and supporting references on the Navy Personnel Command (NPC) website:

Goal: Initiate Reenlistment approval process, if required

If the end of your reenlistment contract as extended (SEAOS) is before your PRD, you must obtain Career Waypoints (C-WAY) Reenlistment approval and reenlist before you can negotiate orders. If you are approved, you should consider reenlisting long term (up to 6 years).

1. Determine whether you are required to reenlist and verify C-WAY application, if required.
 - If reenlistment is required, C-WAY should generate an application 15 months prior to your Soft Expiration of Active Obligated Service (SEAOS).
 - If C-WAY did not generate an application, verify that you have more than 24 months of obligated service after your PRD.
 - ◆ If you have more than 24 months of obligated service remaining at your PRD, you do not need C-WAY approval to negotiate orders.
 - ◆ If you have less than 24 months of obligated service remaining at your PRD, have your CCC contact the Career Waypoints help desk to determine why an application was not automatically generated.
 - Contact your CCC for more information.
