2. Competition was keen during the FY-19 HR DCO Professional Recommendation Board, with 42 qualified applicants reviewed for up to five quotas. The results yielded a 12% Board selection rate.

3. Ultimately, the deciding factor for selection was sustained superior performance while accomplishing HR work and in leadership positions, as evidenced by employer recommendations/appraisals, enlisted evaluations (if applicable), and HR Officer interviews. The interview appraisals offer a community level endorsement of an applicant's fit to the Navy HR community and are a valuable aspect of an HR DCO package. Several additional success factors were identified for the best qualified applicants:

	Selectees	Non-selects
HR experience	8 years (average)	5 years (average)
HR Related Degree	60%	53%
Professional certification *	60%	12%
Leadership experience	100%	76%
Military experience	80%	62%

* Professional certification includes a current, nationally-recognized professional HR certification, such as PHR, SPHR, GPHR, CISSP, GSLC, or another IT or financial management certification.

4. Selectees are commissioned as Ensigns (O-1) in the fiscal year selected and are required to complete the Direct Commission Officer Indoctrination Course (two-week period of Annual Training) within one year of commissioning. Once commissioned, Selectees will be assigned to a Navy Operational Support Center closest to their home of record and will apply for a HR centric Reserve Unit through JOAPPLY. Reserve HR community questions can be directed to the Officer Community Manager, LCDR Jason Grose at jason.grose@navy.mil.
