1. Policy

   a. This article promulgates policies, procedures, and responsibilities for lateral transfer into naval aviation. A lateral transfer board will determine selectees for training leading to designation as naval aviators (pilot or naval flight officer).

   b. The board will base selection on past performance, physical qualifications, age, year-group, desires of the applicant, and needs of the Navy.

2. Applicability. This article is applicable to Regular Navy and Reserve officers desiring lateral transfer or change of designator. Eligibility criteria for initial entry and commissioning into aviation training are addressed in MILPERSMAN 1131-010.

3. Service Criteria for Consideration. The following service-related criteria must be met in order to be considered by the board:

   a. Applicants must hold a commission as ensign or above in the Regular Navy or the Navy Reserve, and not presently reside in the aviation (13XX) community.

   b. Applicants for pilot training must not have been previously separated from any flight-training program of the Army, Navy, or Air Force, except by reason of being temporarily physically disqualified. This provision may be waived by Navy Personnel Command (NAVPERSCOM), Aviation Officer Career Management Division (PERS-43) on a case-by-case basis, as needs of the Navy dictate. Individuals who have previously attrited from naval air training, for reasons other than temporary physical disqualification, must route their application to the Naval Air Training Command (NATRACOM): Operations, Plans, and Requirements Department (N3) for endorsement prior to routing it to NAVPERSCOM:

c. Applicants for naval flight officer training must not have been disenrolled for any reason, other than physical or flight failure, from any military flight training program. This provision may be waived by PERS-43 on a case-by-case basis, as needs of the Navy dictate. Individuals who have previously attrited from naval air training, for reasons other than physical, must route their application to NATRACOM (N3) address cited above.

d. Officers serving in afloat billets are required to attain their warfare qualifications before receiving orders to naval aviation training. Exceptions to this provision may be granted only under extraordinary circumstances (e.g., when applicant’s age warrants such considerations, ship is in extended overhaul, assigned to pre-commissioning unit, etc.).

e. Officers can expect assignment to Naval Aviation Schools Command (NAVAVSCOLSCOM), Pensacola, FL for flight training within 1 year after approval of lateral transfer, change of designator, or at projected rotation date (whichever occurs earliest).

f. While outstanding performance remains the key, timing is also critical. Commissioned officers applying for flight training must be junior enough to permit normal career progression upon completion of training. Generally, the applicant should not have completed more than 2-1/2 years of commissioned service upon application for flight training.

g. Applicants for pilot and naval flight officer must not have passed their 32nd birthday by the convening date of the lateral transfer board. Applicants that will not meet this requirement must submit a waiver request with their package.

4. Academic Criteria for Consideration. The following academic-related criteria must be met in order to be considered by the board:
a. Applicants must have successfully completed the requirements for a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution.

b. Applicants must meet the following Aviation Selection Test Battery (ASTB) minimum scores:

(1) Applicants for pilot training will attain a minimum score of “5” on the academic qualifications rating (AQR) and “6” on the pilot flight aptitude rating.

(2) Applicants for naval flight officer training will attain a minimum score of “5” on the AQR and “6” on the flight officer aptitude rating.

c. Results are valid indefinitely and the minimum time between tests is 30 days. Testing is conducted via the Advanced Placement Examinations (APEX) (Web-based) System. United States applicants may take the ASTB at any recruiting district. Remote military facilities within the continental United States or deployed or overseas commands may request APEX access from the following e-mail address: (ASTB inquiries and APEX technical support) usn.pensacola.navmedop.tractrpns.list.nmotc-astb@mail.mil and Web site:  http://www.med.navy.mil/sites/nmotc/nami/Pages/ASTBOverview.aspx.

5. Physical Criteria for Consideration. Applicants must be physically qualified and aeronautically adapted for duty involving the actual control of aircraft or duty involving flying as a naval flight officer. Applicant flight physical documentation should be submitted to Naval Aerospace Medical Institute (NAMI-53HN) for review and endorsement. The flight physical must be completed and submitted to NAMI-53HN prior to the convening date of the lateral transfer board. Method of submission is through the Aeromedical Electronic Resource Office (AERO) Program (Web-based). Submissions may be marked “Please Expedite for Lateral Transfer Board Convening [date].”

6. Submission of Request. Officers who meet the above eligibility requirements may request pilot and or naval flight officer training (see exhibit 1) by submitting a lateral transfer package, per MILPERSMAN 1212-010, with inclusion of the ASTB official score letter.
