

#552: Chair Ladder

Be honest, now – haven't you done this? You know, when it was just one little item, and it would only take a second, and the step ladder was down the hall or on another floor or maybe you don't have an office step ladder at all?

You can 'fess up. The safety officer isn't around. This won't go on your permanent record, it's just between us.

OK, I'll start. I have done this. And my chair had wheels.

I feel better getting that off my chest.
