We will minimize environmental impacts from our operations by preventing or reducing pollutant releases that may damage the environment wherever possible, we will seek to minimize waste volume and toxicity by using non-toxic or less toxic materials to reduce wastes at their source and to recycle wastes in environmentally safe ways. Hazardous material inventories will be tracked and controlled electronically by the Hazardous Materials Minimization Centers.

4. Continual Improvement. NIWC Pacific will seek continual improvement through the use of our Environmental Management System to achieve objectives and targets. To that end, we will set goals, measure progress, and communicate results. We also recognize that, if we are to achieve our environmental goals, employees must be trained to recognize the environmental impacts of their actions. We will continue to provide training and information to our employees on environmental issues, laws, regulations, and policies relevant to our operations.
